Who is NOVVA?

NOVVA
The next generation of university fairs

We are a provider of EdTech solutions, aiming to help high school students from all over the world take their next educational steps more intelligently. Our core product is our virtual fair platform, NOVVA Connect.

This is NOT a Zoom call. It is an interactive, dynamic platform with chat & video features: the closest you can get to an in-person fair, see here.

In the last year we have:

Hosted 100+ virtual fairs.

Registered 1700+ top ranking international universities. Example of institutions who've attended our fairs are here.

Helped over 450 global high schools to connect 30,000+ students with university reps from around the world in a way that WORKS.

We are 100% free for high schools & students. Exhibiting institutions pay a small fee for their own virtual booth: a fraction of the cost of traditional fairs.

Our model is green & sustainable: the carbon footprint of our fairs are tiny versus traditional fairs - with zero compromise on outcomes.

Hello,

My name is Bianca Neri. I am organizing a free, virtual university fair of both international and domestic universities for high school students in the Philippines on October 29.

What would be the best method of communicating with principals at public high schools in your region to ensure their students have the opportunity to attend this free event?

Our powerful platform allows for direct interaction with universities from around the world all at no cost to schools or students. This is an example of a student registration page, scroll down to see a list of attending universities at this example past fair and a peek into the student view of the dashboard: <https://agis.educationconnectlive.com/> Data analytics are provided to administrators to learn about which students attended, universities they interacted with and career interests. Check out a demo of the platform here.
