Greetings!

We are UP Cinema, a student collegiate film organization based in the College of Mass Communication, University of the Philippines - Diliman that aims to create an avenue for filmmakers and film enthusiasts to share cinematic ideas.

Our annual collegiate film festival competition, Piling Obrang Vidyo (POV), has served as a portal to the growing film industry by providing a platform for student filmmakers to exhibit their films on the big screen.

This coming March 2022, for its 18th year, Piling Obrang Vidyo introduces its alternative film camp and community named Pelikolektibo that aims to provide high school filmmakers and film critics with a series of free online lectures and consultations with prominent mentors.

Pelikolektibo, in line with the late Alexis Tioseco's wish of teaching films in High School, aims to put up an alternative virtual film development laboratory and an inclusive platform that will cater to the voices of the young Filipino filmmakers and film critics/writers. At the succession of this film school, film grants and publication features are also graciously offered by UP Cinema.

In line with this, we would like to invite high school filmmakers and film enthusiasts from Grades 9 to 12 from your academic institution to participate and submit their applications in this year's POV Pelikolektibo Alternative Film School. Guidelines and other pertinent information about the film festival competition can be found on the POV Guidelines and Primer attached in the email with this invitation.

The link to the registration form: <https://bit.ly/CallForKolektibs>

The deadline for submission is on December 23, 2021.

If you have any questions and clarifications, you may reach us through 09760409923 (JT Trinidad - Programs Head), or email us at pelikolektibo.pov@gmail.com. Thank you very much for and we look forward to your submissions.

Taking the film experience beyond the screen and to the streets,

PELIKOLEKTIBO 2022
OFFICIAL GUIDELINES

Pelikolektibo: Paghuhulma

Pelikolektibo: Paghuhulma is a development program for emerging Filipino high school film talents (Grade 9-12) to help them develop their films in their early stages. It is a two-month-long event of sessions on scriptwriting, directing, cinematography, production design, post-production, and producing.

It is divided into two:

- (1) Binhi Section for work-in-progress and
- (2) Hubog Section for individual talents.

Student filmmakers of any discipline are encouraged to apply to both programs.

Binhi Section Guidelines

Eligibility

1. The film camp is open to current Grades 9-12 students of any school/institution/university in the Philippines within the application period.
2. Films of varying styles and forms are accepted: Narrative, Documentary, Experimental, Animation, etc.
3. The project should be a short film (<40 mins) and must be in its early stages of development.
4. The team must fill up the following roles. Members coming from different schools can comprise a team; if it is not possible to fill the roles individually, members can assume multiple roles in order to complete the roster and/or must provide a short explanation for working solo/duo/trio.
 - a. Producer
 - b. Director
 - c. Cinematographer
 - d. Writer
 - e. Editor
 - f. Production Designer
 - g. Sound Designer

Submissions

1. Team application will be submitted through a Google Form. The team must also prepare an organized Google Drive folder named TITLE_PELIKOLEKTIBO_BINHI.
